

...so perfectly named because it opens one child's heart to another child's heart. Then it opens a classroom. Then it opens families. Then it opens the community of tomorrow.

Heart To Heart makes a way for children with disabilities to attend quality, private Christian education along with their siblings and friends. We are committed to our purpose of providing each student with an academically challenging Christian curriculum in the Christ centered environment of CCA. Heart to Heart is primarily a non-diploma program in which students will receive a certificate of completion upon graduating. Heart to Heart also offers a diploma track which is subject to teacher and course availability. All Heart to Heart students will have an Individual Learning Program (ILP). The ILP is a one-to-two-page document based on the scope and sequence of each subject for the student. Heart To Heart strives for full inclusion of each student.

However, as the ILP is a collaborative agreement with parents or caregivers and the special education teacher, special education classes can be accommodated. Heart To Heart's main objective is to teach each student to their highest potential while maintaining as much of the same academic experiences as a typical student. Heart To Heart hopes you will join us at CCA. Then watch the students, or your student, with a disability grow academically, socially, and spiritually to their full potential as God intended.

For more information about the program, including the admissions process or donations, please contact Holly English, Executive Director of Heart To Heart at 270-599-9026 or heart2heart@ccapaducah.org.

This is inclusion.
